

Erin Selvera

Erin joined Texas Rural Water Association in March of 2016 as the legal and legislative director. She came from the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality where she served for eleven years, as a staff attorney in the environmental law division and later as special assistant to the air permits division. As a staff attorney, she represented the TCEQ executive director in contested cases regarding water utility rates, certificates of convenience and necessity, and water right applications and drafted new agency rules and revisions for the water utilities division. Early in her career she was an assistant attorney general in the child support division of the Attorney General's office and project design assistant for Texas Department of licensing and Regulation. She received her juris doctor from St. Mary's University School of Law in 2004 and her bachelor of architecture in 1996 from the University of Houston.
